

Architecture Minnesota Reprints

Architecture Minnesota offers reprints of articles to meet your communications and public-relations needs. There are significant benefits to using reprints. First, you have the credibility that is gained when using promotional materials generated by a third party. Second, you don't have to do the work! The design and writing have been done for you by professionals. Third, it's quick! You can have reprints in two to three weeks when you order from Architecture Minnesota.

Architecture Minnesota reprints are high-quality, four-color productions that require setting up four presses. So, although initial color separations have been made, the printing cost per unit is still high for small runs. To reduce the reprint cost, we encourage you to involve your client and/or other project partners (e.g., contractors and consultants) in a bulk order. A pricing guide follows for estimating reprint costs.
