MINNEAPOLIS, MN The 81st annual American Institute of Architects Minnesota (AIA Minnesota) Convention & Product Exposition will take place Tuesday, November 10 through Friday, November 13, at the Minneapolis Convention Center, in Exhibit Hall D. We hear that our members attend our annual Convention and leave feeling rejuvenated and inspired. More than 2,000 people are projected to attend the 2015 Convention. An estimated 1,500 will attend programs and the exhibits, while another 400 will visit the FREE exhibit hall - which will feature more than 200 companies and a wide variety of exhibits.

The Programs The wide variety of Convention programs will have something for everyone – ranging from programs on the technical aspects of architecture to those of more general interest. Design professionals, the media, and the public, may attend the keynote presentations that have a more universal appeal. Registration will be available for convention packages, a program series, or a single event. Find program and registration information at <http://www.aia-mn.org/events/convention/> (Online registration will be available in September.)
