2016 Young Architects Award Winners

AIA Minnesota is proud to announce the selection of three 2016 Young Architects Award recipients: Jonathan B. Bartling, AIA, HGA Architects & Engineers; Angela Wolf Scott, AIA, MacDonald & Mack Architects; and Christopher Strom, AIA, Christopher Strom Architects.

The Young Architects Award is given to individuals who, in an early stage of their architecture career, have shown exceptional leadership and made significant contributions to the profession. It recognizes architectural talent in the following categories: Design Excellence, Practice, Education, and Service. AIA Minnesota members who have been licensed to practice architecture less than 10 years are eligible for nomination.

AIA Minnesota President's Message

Ah, July. Is there a better reason to live in Minnesota? I don't know of a population in the country that appreciates summer more than we do. In addition to simply not being winter, our beautiful lakes, state-park camping, bike rides on the expansive network of trails, backyard barbecues, and opportunities to explore new pockets of our communities, make summer a time of relaxation and renewal; deepening our appreciation for this place that we call home.

The economic upturn also makes Minnesota a great place to work. Many firms are reporting a robust backlog of work and the activity on the AIA Minnesota Job Bank confirms it; we are expanding our workforce and looking for ways to work smarter.

The fact is that most of us architects actually (thankfully) really love what we do. Even so, it's important to remember why we need to stop thinking we are too busy or too engaged to take breaks:

1. Study after study has proven the health and productivity benefits associated with taking a break, which affects both our economic bottom lines and our firm cultures. The belief that we will get more done if we never stop, is simply not true; increased creativity and productivity, and days not lost to sickness, are exactly what we need to help us do more with less.

2. We're always busy. We're either frantically busy because we have so much work, or we're frantically busy because we don't have the work. With the increased pace of service delivery, the pressure to keep the pipeline full and productive is real and constant. I think we convince ourselves that at some magic point in the not too distant future we'll be all caught up, and then we'll take a break.

That last one, especially, hits awfully close to home for me.

As firm leaders, we need to set the example, to encourage "the break." It seems almost decadent, and the first time you make a conscious effort to take a midday walk, move around the office, or take a work-free vacation, you might feel a bit unsettled, but science tells us—your time will be paid back in spades. Test the theory.

CALL FOR CONVENTION PLANNING COMMITTEE PARTICIPANTS!

The convention planning committee will begin meeting again in August, and we are in need of creative, energetic people who are willing to help make the AIA Minnesota 2016 Convention & Products Exposition an engaging and energizing event!

Convention planning meetings occur monthly, with occasional, extra meetings as we get closer to the convention dates. One-time volunteer opportunities are available too! If you can help, please contact Angie McKinley at mckinley@aia-mn.org.

AIA Minnesota 2016 Gold Medal Award

REVISED GOLD MEDAL AWARD PROCESS & NEW AUGUST 5TH DEADLINE

In late June 2016, the AIA Minnesota Gold Medal Award Selection Committee recommended, and the AIA Minnesota Executive Committee approved, a revised approach for our Gold Medal Award nomination and selection process—and a new deadline for 2016: Friday, August 5th.

Overall, AIA Minnesota has been shifting toward a more transparent approach to its processes and procedures. We have also been working to become consistent with AIA National's processes, procedures, and awards criteria (related to our recent accreditation process). This year's AIA Minnesota Gold Medal Award Selection Committee and Executive Committee have determined that such inconsistencies that relate to the AIA Minnesota Gold Medal Award should be rectified, starting this year.

Nominations Eligibility, Selection Criteria and Process

The full eligibility, selection criteria, and process are available on the AIA Minnesota website. Key elements to note are the following:

- Eligibility: Consistent with the AIA National criteria for the AIA Gold Medal Award, the AIA Minnesota Gold Medal Award is open to a single individual or two individuals (living or deceased, not necessarily an American or an architect), who have created a body of distinguished architectural work.
- Nominations: Nominations made by an AIA Minnesota member will be accepted for review by the Gold Medal Award Selection Committee. Selection Committee members will be ineligible to make nominations—before or after the deadline. Nominators may not be a principal and/or employee of the candidate or the candidate's firm.
- Selection Criteria: The AIA Minnesota Gold Medal Award Selection Committee will evaluate candidates based on how well they meet program criteria, which include how their contributions have: demonstrated great depth and breadth, having a cumulative effect on the profession of architecture in Minnesota; addressed the future of architecture while honoring its tradition; transcended or united specific areas of expertise; and become widely known—by architects, designers, educators, and the public—for the quality of their work.
- Additional selection considerations: Any aspect of work or life experience that may have reflected contributions or sensitivity concerning areas of special interest to AIA Minnesota, its members, and the architecture profession in Minnesota, including but not limited to the policy and position statements of AIA Minnesota. These might include such areas as diversity, sustainability, architectural education, or the mentoring of emerging professionals, to the degree the entrant has had the opportunity to address them, or as these topics may enhance the presentation.

• Gold Medal Award Selection Committee: Committee members are ineligible to submit nominations during their time of service on the committee. Communication with the Gold Medal Award Selection Committee in any given year regarding any aspect of the nomination or selection process—from the time the Selection Committee is convened to the completion of the selection process—by the nominator, nominee(s), or anyone acting on their behalf, is inappropriate and will be cause for disqualification. For 2016, the nominating process is considered to have begun with the publication of notice in this Matrix newsletter (July 7, 2016). The list of 2016 committee members is provided on the AIA Minnesota website.

- Nomination Submission Requirements: All supporting documentation must be submitted in a single PDF file—not to exceed 10MB and not to exceed fifteen (15) pages—and shall consist of: a nomination letter addressed to the Committee Chair, summarizing the contributions of the candidate(s), not to exceed one page; a brief biography of the candidate(s), not to exceed two pages; a statement or list of the achievements of the candidate(s), not to exceed two pages; descriptive statements and/or images related to the body of work created by the candidate(s), not to exceed four pages; a maximum of three letters of support, addressed to the Committee Chair, not to exceed one page each; and optional miscellaneous material, including clippings, articles, etc., not to exceed three pages.
- Secrecy: To the extent practicable, nominators are encouraged to gather and submit materials for the nomination submission without the knowledge of the nominated candidate(s), as the disclosure of the Gold Medal Award winner has traditionally been a surprise to the nominee/selected candidate(s) and the desire is to continue this tradition.
- Confirmation of Selection: The Gold Medal Award Selection Committee will present its recommended selection for the award to the AIA Minnesota Board of Directors. In order for that selection to be confirmed, it must be approved by at least a 3/4 vote of the Board.

AIA ST. PAUL FOOD FOR THOUGHT PHOTOS

In June, AIA St. Paul held a Food for Thought architectural tour of the historic Hamm Building in downtown St. Paul, followed by a happy hour at Great Waters Brewing Company. The Hamm Building was built in 1919 and designed by the firm of Toltz, King and Day (later becoming TKDA). It was known during the early 20th century for housing the most elaborate "movie palace" in the Upper Midwest. Today the building still serves as an entertainment hub, providing space for Vieux Carré, the Great Waters Brewing Company, and the Park Square Theater. During the tour, attendees were able to watch a rehearsal scene from an upcoming play called Calendar Girls at the Park Square Theater.

Diversity & Inclusion Task Force

UNCONSCIOUS BIAS @ WORK: PART 1

Tuesday, July 19, 11:30 am - 1:00 pm

Landmark Center, Ramsey County Room, 75 W 5th St., St. Paul

Unconscious biases are common to us all. They are created and reinforced by our environments and experiences. Our minds are constantly processing information, often without our awareness, and when we are moving fast, or lack all of the data, unconscious biases serve to fill in the gaps, influencing everything from product decisions to our interactions with coworkers or clients. Participate in this free, interactive, 90-minute workshop, offered in two parts, and learn to recognize how our unconscious biases can impact work-related decisions and interactions. Register at <http://www.aia-mn.org/event/unconscious-bias-stpaul/>.

Additional Unconscious Bias @ Work Part I sessions will be offered in Rochester and Duluth. This is the first of two parts; watch for more information on dates and locations for Unconscious Bias Part 2.

Emerging Professionals (EPC)

SPECIAL SUMMER DRAUGHTING CLUBS!

The three AIA Minnesota 2016 AIA National Young Architects Award winners will attend the summer EPC gatherings for informal conversation and to share their experiences both applying for and receiving the Young Architects Award. Join us on the following Wednesdays at 5:00 pm:

- July 13 at Surly Brewing, 520 Malcolm Ave. SE, Minneapolis, with Amy Kalar, AIA
- August 10 at Bad Weather Brewing Company, 414 7th St. W, St. Paul, with Bob Ganser, AIA
- September 14 at Tattersall Distilling, 1620 Central Ave. NE, Minneapolis, with Karen Lu, AIA

Draughting Club is offered on the second Wednesday of each month by the AIA Minnesota Emerging Professionals Committee (EPC). Check out the 2016 dates and locations at <http://www.aia-mn.org/get-involved/committees/emerging-professionals/emerging-professionals-epc-draughting-club/>.
